

SURF RIDING IN AUSTRALIA

The following interesting letter with regard to surfing has been received by Mr. George Osborne. It is notable that the Outrigger Club is being heard of in all parts of the world. Alexander Hume Ford is certainly keeping busy:

"Dear Sir: Having read on several occasions about the 'surfboard riding' on the Waikiki Beach, I am taking the liberty of addressing you and asking you for particulars in regard to the sport.

"On the Sydney beaches we 'shoot the breakers' without a board by going out about 150 yards from the beach, then swimming on the wave just as it is about to break. We then hold ourselves rigid and are shot in onto the beach. Of course, this shooting is all very well in its way, but I am of the opinion that this is but tame sport compared with the surfboard riding as is done on your beaches.

"I consider myself a very fair 'shooter' without a board, and think that, if you will be good enough to supply me with the dimensions of the board used, also instructions how to manipulate same, I may be able to master the board.

"I am not certain whether you will receive this letter, as the address is rather vague, or I would forward you some illustrations of 'shooting the breakers' on the different Sydney beaches. However, should this address find you, I will be pleased to forward them on receipt of correct address.

"I will also be pleased to supply you with information in regard to our sport in the good old Pacific, or any other information you may desire.

"Trusting to hear from you at an early date, I am, yours sincerely,
"CAPEWELL AMOS,
"Member of the Maroubra Surf Club."

LEGGINGS VS. MARINES TODAY

The second day of the big Military League series will be celebrated this afternoon on Aala Park. The Marines will have a chance at the road-pounders from Fort Shafter and expect to hand it to them.

This looks like a mighty close game. It is true that the Marines got theirs from the twice-a-year kids last Sunday but it is also true that the leggingers got theirs from the four-footers out at the league grounds. Since both teams have suffered defeat they will each be naturally anxious to hand it off on each other and a mighty hard and fast game is assured.

The Marines will probably use their battery of last Sunday while the Fort Shafter kids may change over and give another twirler a chance. There will be a large aggregation of rooters out to make the air thick and the general public will make no mistake in taking a couple of hours off and going down to Aala Park to watch the game.

Next Sunday the N. G. H. will take the train out to Leilehua to try conclusions with the 5th Cavalry boys. And there will be one grand game. It is already conceded by the fans that these two teams will fight it out for the championship of the league and the first game between them will most surely be a hummerino with the accent on the "hum."

POLLARDS TO PLAY CRICKET

The Pollards will show what they can do on the cricket field this afternoon on Makiki park. A match has been arranged between the young actors and the Honolulu C. C. and the game will start promptly at 2:15.

Only one inning will be played, but this will be sufficient to show just how the Australians stack up when it comes to batting out the boundaries, and a very interesting game of the good old British cricket is assured.

The Pollards will be represented by Ernest Chester, Willie Pollard, Jack Pollard, Fred Bindloss, Teddie McNamara, Frank Cherry, Alfred Goulding, Harold Frazer, George Chester and Leslie Donaghey.

Those who have promised to turn out and play for the local team are R. J. Buchly, H. Bailey, S. Beardmore, D. L. Withington, F. Withington, J. H. Fiddes, C. F. Maxwell, G. H. Stevenson, and Messrs. Podmore, Egan, Dr. Potte, Walker and McGill.

OAHU VS. HIGH SCHOOL TODAY

Oahu College and High School will play off their postponed game in the interscholastic league this afternoon on Alexander field. This game was started last Saturday but old man Pluvius had a peev and began to weep so copiously that the game was called off.

The High School put up a mighty fine game on Monday and may be relied on to make it hard for the Punahou ball-tossers. The game will start as soon after three o'clock as possible and will be well worth watching.

Sport Notes

The postponed Kam-St. Louis game will be played tomorrow afternoon on the Kam diamond. This was the second game that one J. Pluvius put a stop to last Saturday afternoon. These postponed games are being played on off days so as not to interfere with the interscholastic schedule and to keep everything up-to-date as the series progresses.

Training for the big Y. M. C. A. doings on June 11 is going on apace by contestants for all the events. It looks as though the Marathon race would be one to attract more public attention than anything of the kind yet pulled off. The two-mile walking race is also attracting much attention and the fast walkers of the town are already out getting fit. Dal Fahy has started early training and is still making remarks about newspaper men with long legs. He will probably have no less than three of them to compete with.

In justice to W. Tin Chong, the very capable scorer and press-agent of the Military League, he turned in a cleverly written account of the Military League games last Sunday, but owing to lack of space this had to be very much curtailed.

The Marines and Kewalos will play off the second of the series for the championship of the Atkinson League at Aala Park next Sunday morning, starting at 9:30. The Kewalos won the first game and, should they win this one, they will take the championship. If the Marines win there will be another game, probably on the following Sunday, which will be decisive.

SENATE

over to the counties larger powers of self-government, believing that local men can handle local affairs better than men living at a distance, believing also that if the responsibility is placed on the counties a great many people who have in the past been indifferent to their civic duties will wake up and take a hand in the management of their local affairs.

"This has been one of the best sessions I have ever attended, and the ability of our local legislature to handle our local affairs becomes more and more evident, each session being a distinct advance over its predecessor."

Senator Chillingworth of the select committee on the House Organic Act resolution returned the document to the Senate with an observation that it was too late in the session for a committee to take up the resolution seriously, and believed that it should be returned to the Senate, which could take such action as its wisdom might dictate. With the Senate resolution on the land question, the House resolution was then placed on the order of the day.

Senator Baker voiced some slightly incoherent objection to the House bill amending the law relating to diseased animals, apparently thinking that it was going to work a hardship on some of his constituents. The measure was finally passed over the dissenting votes of Senator Baker, Brown, Harvey and Makekaku.

Senator Knudsen moved to table the bill extending the powers to summon witnesses. His motion was lost, the bill being finally passed on the affirmative votes of Brown, Coelho, Harvey, Quinn, Makekaku, McCarthy, Moore, Kalama, Robinson and Woods.

The House bill relating to tax liens passed third reading with the full vote of the Senate, and the House bill, removing the prohibition on deputy sheriffs appearing as counsel in civil cases, was laid on the table, Coelho being father of the motion.

The House joint resolution to name the park at Waikaka, Hilo, after Kamehameha III. as Kauikaouli Park, was adopted.

Swamp Bill.

The Senate bill providing for the reclamation of the Waikiki swamp land was laid on the table on the motion of Senator Chillingworth, it being understood that course would be pursued when the bill was introduced, for the time at the disposal of the Legislature did not permit of the serious consideration of the bill.

The House concurrent resolution naming a Hilo park after Representative Kealawa was taken up for consideration. Senator Makekaku, as an "amendment," suggested that the name of the new playground be "Brown Park." The final disposition of the resolution was left to the select committee of the Hawaii delegation. It is believed a compromise will be reached by naming a tree in the park for each member of the Hawaii delegation.

HOUSE

A number of other resolutions came in. One was to authorize the Superintendent of Public Works to extend Queen street through to the Beach road. This was referred to the Public Lands Committee, which reported favorably on it. The report was adopted and the resolution passed.

Kealawa Park.

Kawewehi brought up again the matter of naming Hilo park No. 2, Kealawa Park, which had been decided upon in a joint resolution but which had fallen on the way to the Senate. Kawewehi put the matter up again in the form of a concurrent resolution. Affonso protested in a way not to hurt Kealawa's feelings, but the resolution was adopted.

MANY ACCIDENTS ON DOWNTOWN STREETS

A series of runaway and other vehicle accidents aroused a little excitement on downtown streets yesterday. First of all J. P. Cooke, who had engaged a surrey, came out of a runaway a little later without a scratch. The surrey was jammed into a close space in front of the old Gazette office on Merchant street by a wagon driven by an Oriental. A trace broke and the horses started to run. Just as Mr. Cooke jumped from the rig, the latter overturned and the horses parted company with it. The driver pluckily held on and was dragged almost to the Associated Garage where Mr. Marshall, the expressman, stopped them. The driver was pretty well bruised.

Mr. Smith of the Dairymen's Association was moving along Hotel street in his light auto, going at a slow pace. Near the corner of the Honolulu Library building he had to swerve quickly toward the sidewalk to avoid the catapault pace of Manuel Silva, a new auto driver who has had three accidents in the past ten days. The result was that Mr. Smith's machine bounded over the curb and climbed up the library steps and was jammed near the top. The machine was extricated from its odd position, without having sustained much damage. In crossing the sidewalk the machine narrowly missed a Hawaiian woman. Silva's machine proceeded up Alakea street at a swift pace.

Then about 9 a. m. a Japanese named Suichio, who was riding on a bicycle on King street near Fort, was run down by a Chinese hackman. The rider and bike disappeared under the hack, and the horse taking fright started at a merry clip along King toward Nuuanu. The bike caught in the hack's axle and was carried along to Nuuanu where police officers stopped the horse and escorted driver, horse, hack and bike to the station house. The bike rider was bruised and the hack driver agreed to pay the expenses for repairing his machine. While it is said the hack driver rounded the corner too sharply, his offense is not an item to the reckless rounding of corners by autoists.

Milwaukee, Wis.—"Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has made me a well woman, and I would like to tell the whole world about it."
